Within about 40 min drive from Levi, in the shade of the Pallas-Ylläs National Park lies Lake Jerisjärvi. On the edge of the lake, in Keimiöniemi, lives the Fisherman of Lake Jerisjärvi. The fisherman takes you to the lake in a beautiful winter landscape. "Juomustus" is an ancient form of winter fishing, which has been used for centuries in Lapland. Before heading for the fishing nets, you are told how the nets can be inserted under the ice and what tools are required. After that we go to the fishing nets excited to see the possible amount of catch. We check the nets together and the prey instinct of even first-time visitors is bound to awake when the nets cork-line vibrates in their hands and soon the silvery whitefish glints in the ice hole. Usually beautiful whitefish are caught in the lake. After the exciting fishing experience, we shall cook and enjoy fresh fish soup in the warmth of kota. ACTIVITIES

SUMMER FISHING WITH NETS - SEINING WITH LUNCH

During 10.6- 31.8

Duration: 4 h

Description

Within about 40 min drive from Levi, in the shade of the Pallas-Ylläs National Park lies Lake Jerisjärvi. On the edge of the lake, in Keimiöniemi, lives the Fisherman Jari of Lake Jerisjärvi. Your day by Lake Jerisjärvi begins, when you arrive Jari's house. Take the short walk (50m) down to the shore, where we shall take the boat to see the Keimiöniemi fishing huts. They are located only few minutes away. Your host, the master of story-telling, Jari, describes you the past and the present life by the lake and the fishing huts. Jari's family has lived by the lake in Keimiöniemi since the 1830s and fishing has always been a central part of life. We shall return to Jari's private shore, where you will learn the traditional seine fishing. Now you can experience yourself how the family has lived and fished for centuries. The seine is taken to the lake on two boats and thrown into water. There is room for some extra "fishermen" on the boats and the rest can enjoy the majestic fell scenery from a rowing boar.

You can also admire the scenery from the shore and sit by the warming fire. The seine is slowly reeled to the shore and you will have a chance to guess the amount of caught fish. The fish is immediately gutted, a skill which you can also learn. While the fish is being smoked, you can go for a swim or pet the family's cat and the dog. As soon as the whitefish have turned copper, it's time to enjoy the meal. Traditionally you eat the whitefish with you fingers. For the dessert you will enjoy coffee made by an open fire accompanied by fresh blueberry pie. Blueberries are handpicked by the family.

Description

"KUMPUTUNTURI FELL FLURRY"

East of Levi lies the 581m-high Kumputunturi Fell. A fire patrolman used to be on duty at its summit, and their fire patrol pavilion is still standing. To reach our destination we will cross bogland, lakes and frozen rivers. On the journey, we pop into a Lappish reindeer village. And then we cook over a glowing village fireplace or a campfire in the wilderness. On Kumputunturi Fell, we doff our hats and pay homage to Seita (a Lappish stone idol) and photograph the stunning landscapes. Then we slowly descend back to our starting point.

"JERISJÄRVI ENCHANTMENT"

The scenery at Jerisjärvi Lake near Pallastunturi national park is said to be strikingly beautiful and wonderfully relaxing. The drive is also interesting and varied. There are high fells, flat open lakes and rugged forests deep in snow. The scenic restaurant of the Jeris Hotel awaits us at our destination. From its award-winning menu, we can enjoy such delicacies as Jerisjärvi whitefish. If the pack of adventurers so desires, we can stay a little longer, relax in the sauna in the Arctic Sauna world and maybe even take a dip in the natural ice pool. SAUNA

ACTIVITIES

TRADITIONAL SMOKE SAUNA ON THE TAIGA LAKE BANK AND ICEHOLE

Duration: 2-3 h

A genuine experience of Finnish traditional smoke sauna

Description

The savusauna (smoke sauna) is a special type of sauna without an exhaust chimney. Finns think it the country's best-kept secret. Like a spiritual experience, the smoke sauna experience is something that cannot be described by words, but has to be experienced: it's the enjoyment of its transitory effects which result in longer lasting feeling of well-being. Heating process goes for 5-6 hours so that large amount of wood is burned in a particularly large stove and the smoke fills the room. When the sauna is hot enough, the fire is allowed to die and the smoke is ventilated out. The residual heat of the stove is enough for the duration of the sauna. Secret lies in a soft heat and the aroma of wood-smoke. Air exchange is the most important factor in a sauna: the smoke can easily come out and fresh oxygen come in.

Sauna is located on the lake Immel and it also has a wooden-heated hot tub outside and always-open ice hole for dipping after the sauna.
